

Sept 13 – Directors’ and Officers’ Due Diligence – Occupational Health and Safety Corporate Governance

Date: September 13

Time: 9:00 AM PDT

Speaker: Andy Wood, Harris & Co.

Register Here

Join us for this webinar presentation that dives deep into the world of occupational health and safety. Discover cutting-edge strategies and best safety practices specifically crafted for corporations like yours, while safeguarding yourself from personal liability for safety violations.

During this session, we'll explore essential topics that are critical for your success:

Decode the Legal Maze: Unveiling the Statutory Duties of Directors and Officers Navigate through the complex realm of legal obligations and unveil the key responsibilities you hold as a corporate leader. Stay one step ahead and ensure your compliance with OH&S regulations.

Fortify Your Defense: Mastering Health and Safety Responsibilities Arm yourself with powerful insights and strategies to fortify your corporate defense system. Learn how to proactively address health and safety challenges, mitigate risks, and protect your organization's reputation.

Rise to the Challenge: Directors' and Officers' Due Diligence Demystified Gain an in-depth understanding of the crucial due diligence required from corporate directors and officers. Discover the secrets to making informed decisions, managing risks, and cultivating a safe environment that thrives.

Ignite a Culture of Excellence: Fueling Positive Health and Safety Habits Unleash the transformative power of a positive health and safety culture within your organization. Learn how to inspire and engage your teams to champion a culture of excellence that drives productivity, innovation, and unparalleled success.

Don't miss this rare opportunity to revolutionize your approach to OH&S governance, while minimizing personal liability risks. Grab your spot now and join us on this exhilarating journey towards corporate safety excellence!